Exhibit A (modifications to original exhibit highlighted):

ACC Authorization of Temporary Modality Changes (COVID response):

All courses may be offered under remote instruction during Winter and Spring quarters of 2021 and during Summer Session 2021 regardless of previously approved modality. No curricular review is needed during this timeframe for a change to remote instruction. If a course is expected to be offered in an online modality in the long term, it should be submitted for curricular approval for online modality.
